

SUGGESTED METHOD OF OBTAINING HIGH RESOLUTION DOWNLOADS

1. There are too many images to host them entirely on my website so I am using my Flickr Storage site
2. The link on the index page will take you straight to Flickr.
3. Double left click on the image you wish to download.
4. Just above the top left hand corner of the picture you will see the word "Actions" click near that to get a drop down menu.
5. On that menu double left click "view all sizes"
6. That will give you a large version of the image. Over the top of the picture you will see various sizes which you can download.
7. You can download any of those. Personally I would download the "Large" size, but if you are really brave you can go for the original size which is even bigger - simply left click on it.
8. When you have made your decision - put your cursor on the picture. Right click once and from the menu select "save picture as"
9. Left click once and it will show you where it wants to put it on your computer and you can save it in the normal way

If you experience problems with this – or for any other queries please contact me

rmyerscough@hotmail.com